How to set up

Mapping type

All EvolveOnDemand configurations requires that you set a category for each type of Operation. As there is one single layout for multiple type of Operations, you need to inform the system what layout to use. This can be done automatically by setting the corresponding values in the cwMappingTypeToEngine.js file. The following structure is :

```
var cwConfigurationEditorMapping = {
    "Calculation engine" : "cwEngineCalculation"

The key is the configuration category. Make sure you do not modify the value.

Evolve structure

As layout are dynamically loaded according to the configuration category, you need to create the following structure within Evolve :

Please make sure to select the Category and configuration property in the Edit page.

Once the configuration is set up, deploy your website (don't forget to deploy themes too !)
